Extract of a letter from Chester Town, (Maryland) April 28, 1802.

“ An instance of voluntary abstinence has lately taken place, perhaps unparalleled. An insane person, named Horatio Seney, of Church Hill, in Queen Anne’s county, Maryland, a few days ago compleated a Fast of forty-four days ! being determined (as he frequently declared) to out-fast our Blessed Saviour.

“ During this whole period, he suffered nothing to pass his lips but pure water :—No persuasion whatever could prevail on him to mix milk with it. Meat, bread, &c. were repeatedly put in his way, that he might take it by stealth— it remained untouched.

On the morning of the 45th day he broke his fast by eating one perch and two mouth-fulls of honey—observing, that as his last meal was fish, his first should be the same—After this, in going to the door he fell down—was taken up & put to bed ; the next day he took half a cup of coffee, and a small biscuit, which was the last food he partook of. A short time after this, perhaps one hour, he expired.

“ During this wonderful fast, he rode about as usual, exhibiting a most horrid spectacle— his bones nearly thro’ his skin, his lips shrunk so as to discover his teeth & gums complete. He was perfectly harmless, never having injured any one: he was therefore suffered to go at large. He was also remarkable for a retentive memory.”

STATIONERS and BINDERS.

JO. 71, Chestnut-street, Philadelphia, having now in complete operation, a set of improved Ruling Machines, are thereby enabled to all kinds of Books, either with red or faint to any pattern, on the most moderate terms, at the shortest notice.

The expedition and accuracy in ruling both red and faint lines, by these machines, is such that the reduction of expence in large books will be very considerable, this it is hoped will be an inducement to the adoption of the general use of faint lines, as saving of paper by the use of them will more than compensate for the expence of ruling.

HYDE & Co. have also introduced the new Patent Backs, by means of which the long desired quality of combining strength of binding with freedom of opening is fully obtained. The largest books, when bound in this manner, may be written upon close to the back, with nearly the same ease, as upon a single sheet of loose paper.

By the last arrivals from London, they have received a general assortment of STATIONARY GOODS, including best English WRITING PAPERS of every description, which, together with a stock of American Papers, will enable them to take orders for Books on the most moderate terms with the utmost punctuality.

Specimens of the ruling and binding as above, are ready for inspection.

The Enterprize Capt. Sterret, had arrived at Gibraltar on the 2d of July from the squadron cruising off Tripoli. The letters of Captain Sterret are also silent as to M^r Niel's engagement, or his own, as reported.; which, with respect to the latter amounts to disproof.
